EE Week's Annual Photo Blog Contest

Submit your photos and stories by May 31 for the chance to win great prizes!

There's just one more week to submit entries for the 2010 EE Week Photo Blog Contest. Post inspiring photos and stories from your school or organization's environmental education activities and you could win an Ultra Flip Camcorder, a classroom subscription to National Geographic Explorer! magazine and more! Just for entering, we'll send you an environmental education poetry magnet.

Recycle Bicycle, EE Week 2009 Photo Blog Contest winner

Each photo blog entry must include a photograph and accompanying text no longer than 1,500 characters that clearly describes the environmental education activity showcased in the photo. Your photo blog can be about environmental education activities that took place in the classroom or in a non-formal setting before, during or after EE Week.

Media release forms are required for each identifiable person in a photo. Entries will be judged on the quality of the photograph and blog, visual appeal, the level of success and creativity that was achieved in bringing environmental education to the students and the photo's inspirational value. Read the complete rules.

No purchase necessary. All contest participants must be at least 18 years old, residents of the U.S., and affiliated with an organization which provides K-12 educational programs, and meet all eligibility requirements. Void where prohibited. Read the complete contest rules.

Our Program

National Environmental Education (EE) Week is the largest organized environmental education event in the United States.

EE Week connects educators with environmental resources to promote K-12 students' understanding of the environment.

National Environmental Education Foundation

Knowledge to live by

The National Environmental Education Foundation (NEEF) provides knowledge to trusted professionals who, with their credibility, amplify messages to national audiences to solve everyday environmental problems. Together, we generate lasting positive change.

NEEF partners with professionals in health, education, media, business and public land management to promote daily actions for helping people protect and enjoy the environment. Through our primary programs - Classroom Earth, National Public Lands Day, National Environmental Education Week, Business and Environment, Earth Gauge(r) and Health & Environment - we offer Americans knowledge to live by. To learn more, call (202) 833-2933 or visit <http://www.neefusa.org>.
